Shakerite Bi-Weekly Next Year; 1st Issue to Incorporate Handbook

AN EDITORIAL

At long last, Shaker, like most other schools in the country, is to have a bi-weekly publication! In answer to prolonged requests, the Budget Committee in its 1940-41 annual budget report, made it known that provisions would be made next year for students to receive twice as many Shakerites as they did this year, or, approximately every other week. Adding further to this good news, comes the announcement that the increase in circulation will carry with it no extra charge and will be handled as before through the budget book.

JOURNALISM CLASS IN PROSPECT

To promote this new plan, Shakerite faculty adviser, George G. Starr has announced tentative plans for a journalism class which will meet several times a week. This will enable staff members to have organized meetings to complete work during school time rather than on outside time as it has been done in the past.

HANDBOOK TO BE INCORPORATED

Part of this whole new plan originated through the Handbook Committee of the Student Council where it was decided that it would be more economical and more efficient to promulgate the handbook in the first issue of the Shakerite. Along with this decision came word that the first issue containing the handbook will presumably incorporate announcements concerning the opening of school, homerooms, and the like, and will be sent through the mail to every student a week or so before school opens in September.

Work on this first issue is already underway, and with the help of the Handbook Committee including Dave Thrailkill, John Kellogg, and Bob Falls, should be in the hands of everyone by the end of summer vacation.

NAME STAFF TO INAUGURATE NEW PLAN

After due consideration by retiring editors Helen Ayers and Walter Haas, it was intimated that next year's staff will be organized somewhat in the following manner: Editor-in-Chief, Kenneth Lynn; Associate Editors, Willard Hertz and Ed Seigler; Literary Editors, Barbara Avery and Barbara Lou Harrison Feature Editor, Kay Mayers; Copy Editor, Netta Siegel; Sports Editor, Robert Brunner; Girls' Sports Editor, Ruth Ammerman. Important business staff positions will be given to John Jubell, Ralph Donaldson, and Harvey Fisher. These appointments are to be confirmed or changed on the basis of trials early next fall, at which time other positions will also be filled.

254 Graduate June 5th; Pattie Plays at Prom

Rev. Theodore H. Evans to Give Graduation Address; Senior Class Joins at Pine Ridge in Farewell Celebration

By Bob Hubbard

Climaxing a year of hard work and many happy associations, the first week of June holds in the offing two highly important events for Shaker Seniors of the Class of 1940. Vincent Pattie's well-known band is scheduled to swing out at the Senior Prom June 3, and on the Thursday evening following, in what is at once perhaps the most solemn and joyous ceremony of the term, 254 graduating Seniors garbed in traditional cap and gown will be presented with their diplomas.

The Senior Prom will again be held at Pine Ridge Country Club, where over three hundred jubilant 12A's and 12B's, one of the largest crowds in Prom history, are expected to glide from nine-thirty till one o'clock to the mellow rhythm of Pattie's popular band. Class officers in charge of arrangements are 12A Class President Fleming Blair and Social Chairman Ann Mulcahy; and 12B Class President Bob Post and Social Chairman Jane Gentholts.

At the Commencement June 5, Reverend Theodore H. Evans, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will give the farewell address to the Class of 1940. Seniors will be presented their diplomas by Mr. J. H. McCall, Vice President Board of Education, and there will be numbers by the orchestra and by the A Cappella Choir.

Lathe to Speak in WGAR Competition

John Lathe will represent Shaker in the sixth annual WGAR Declamation contest as a result of the school elimination held Tuesday afternoon, May 14. Edwin Eudy placed second and will act as alternate. Third and fourth places respectively went to Bob Brunner and Bob Roberts. Contestants from thirty schools will compete in the semi-finals from which the five best speakers will be chosen to speak in the finals. If Shaker places first, it will keep the trophy which was won last year by Jack Morrow.

Five Shaker Seniors Receive Scholarships

Five Shaker students have been announced as winners of college scholarships. Bob Hubbard, a senior new curriculum student, received a five hundred dollar scholarship to Columbia University; and David Loomis, mid-year graduate, was awarded one to Yale. Jack Fitzgerald, senior new curriculum student, has received one from Amherst; and Helen Haas, senior, and Elizabeth Pond, senior new curriculum student were announced winners of Wooster awards. Jack Doxsey was awarded a scholarship to Lehigh University.

Shaker Will Offer Sports, Academics During Summer

The summer program at Shaker will include both academic work and sport activity. Summer school for high school students begins this year on June 10, and ends on August 2. The fee will be $12 per course.

The tennis courts will be available to students until 5 o'clock on all week days and expert instruction from Phil Greenstein or Brent Baxter will be offered for one dollar a week. The swimming pool will be open three nights a week and every afternoon from 1 to 2:30.

A course in shop, lasting eight weeks, will be offered to high school students for $15.

Exhibit Museum Paintings

The seven pictures in "the little gallery of the main hall" were selected by a student committee composed of Jane Karnosh, Jean Allen, Louise Adler, Franklin Hovore, Eblen Dibrell, and Willard Heiss. The pictures, chosen from former May Shows, were lent by the Cleveland Museum of Art.

Mrs. Stitt's Art Club and one of Miss Wickwire's English classes have already visited this year's May Show, and the senior new curriculum groups are planning the trip.

Congressional Club Elects Sawdey Prexy

The Congressional Club elected nine new members in a recent meeting. The boys who will become members next year are Dave Thrailkill, Bob Post, Bill Lister, Chuck King, Dave Garvin, Dave Benedict, "Babe" Neville, Jack Schuyler, and George Webster. For the first time, faculty members had a voice in the voting.

The club also elected its officers for next year. Neil Sawdey was elected president; Tom Rogers, vice-president; Ken Lynn, secretary; and Bill Anderson, treasurer.

The members who are graduating this year are Jerry Ensign, Fleming Blair, Jack Doxsey, Herb Ervin, Wally Haas, Frankie Morse, Bob Knight, Bob Roberts, Jack Fitzgerald, and Ben Gast.

Play and Dance Close Shaker's Social Season

June Harney Will Star in Dramatic Class Play; "First Lady" Is Satire on Washington Social Life

By Willard J. Hertz

First Lady, the production by Mr. Fryer's dramatic class, will bring the Shaker social season to an end this evening in the large auditorium.

The play, a comedy in three acts written by Katherine Dayton and George Kaufman, is a satire on official Washington and deals with the rivalry between the capital's two leading socialites, the wife of the Secretary of State and the wife of a Supreme Court Justice. It was first produced on Broadway in 1935 with Jane Cowl in the leading role and was later made into a movie with Kay Francis.

The play will be followed by a recording dance held in the girls' gym until midnight under the direction of Ernest Joseph. First curtain is at 8:15 and the admission, which includes both the play and the dance, is 35 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

The cast is headed by June Harney, the wife of Secretary Kenneth Telford, and by John Bazeley and Blossom Felder, the Justice and his wife. Peggy Bretschneider, Charles Elefant, Ruth Williams, Anna Martha Gemmell, Nancy Morrow, Jeanne Hertz, Gloria Fassen, Alice Mastny, Don Baxter, Bob Telford, Gordon McGaw, Jim Dyas, John Kellogg, and Jim Cory are also in the cast. Patsy Komlos is business manager and Nancy Morrow is in charge of the properties.

Falls Inaugurated; Dedicate Gristmill To Mr. O. T. Parks

The presentation of the annual, a short talk by retiring President Franklin Morse, selections by the band and by the A Cappella Choir, and the inauguration of the new nual Student Council Day program, Tuesday, May 21.

Merril Sands, editor of the Annual, presented the eighteenth issue of the Gristmill to Mr. O. T. Parks, dedicatee, and Fleming Blair, senior class president, gave to Mr. Patin a one-hundred-dollar check as a gift from his class to make the final payment on the portable sound movie projector.

Bob Falls

Jerry Ensign, chairman of the budget committee, presented the proposed budget for next year which will include additional activities with no price increase.

Franklin Morse gave his farewell address as the retiring president; and the next year's Student Council officers were installed. They are Bob Falls, president; Dave Benedict, vice-president; Chuck King, secretary, and Dave Garvin, treasurer. The program was under the direction of Miss Laitem.

Dyas's Swingsters Score

Jimmy Dyas and his swing band "wowed" the audience in an assembly program presented on Friday, May 17. "Boy Meets Horn," "One O'Clock Jump," "Tuxedo Junction," and "Study in Brown," among other selections, brought cheers, whistles, and wild applause from enthusiastic fans. Although several of the boys will be attending college, Jimmy hopes to keep the band together next year.

Juniors Frolic at Prom; Libby Newhall Made Queen

Shakerites swung out to the music of Bob Pettay at the annual Shaker High Junior Prom, May 17, in the Girls' gym. A moon and maypole lent atmosphere from 8:00 to 12:00 with Libby Newhall outshining it all as the Junior May Queen.

Miss McCracken and Mrs. Sacha sponsored the dance with Barbra Avery as head of the social committee. Also assisting were Bruce Fielding, Libby Newhall, Bob Adams, Bob Ballus, Bill Porter, Ranny Osterthaler, and Marilyn Jones, social chairman of the Junior B's, George Webster and Dave Thrailkill.

In Acknowledgment

The calendar on the "Shakerite" office wall marks this our last issue for this year. And to those who have worked on previous editions, this year's last issue not only means a temporary discontinuance of work we enjoy, but the permanent dislocation of the skeleton which has supported our paper the past nine months.

We of the staff want to acknowledge publicly both the sincere regret at the loss of our editors and an appreciation for the pleasure we have derived from working under their leadership.

Our list of alumni now includes co-editors Helen Ayers and Walter Haas, News Editor Elizabeth Rodgers, Literary Editor Sallie Baus, Copy Editor Elizabeth Pond, Feature Editor Robert Hubbard, Sports Editor Bob Winchell, Girls' Sports Editor Elinor Mullaney, and Business Manager Joe Siegler.

To you all, the best of luck and a successful continuation of the fine journalism you have already given Shaker.

B. L. H.

Bye-Bye Blues

Graduation is but two short weeks away. We, the undergraduates, have been warned of the coming loss by reminders to the seniors of cap and gown fittings and orders for announcements. The election of new school officers brought the issue closer home with the realization that those familiar faces are, also, to soon be replaced.

B. L. H.

Basement Blues

A great deal of activity goes on nowadays downstairs, and there is a regtetable lack of facilities. The "Shakerite" office does not have an office telephone, a P. A. outlet, or a clock. The same is true of the art room. This makes it impossible for people working in these rooms to hear special announcements or the passing chimes. If these rooms were furnished with clocks, it would be possible to estimate when the periods ended, but even these are missing. Communications to and from the office must be carried by special messenger.

This situation is a handicap to both students and teachers, and we sincerely hope that it will be corrected—soon.

Don't miss the funniest darn comedy you've ever seen—playing here tonight at 8:15! It's "First Lady," of course, with June (Scarlet o' Haira) Harney and a brilliant cast including twenty of your best friends! And don't forget, our tickets entitle us also to the "First Lady" Ball which follows the stage performance.

And if it's the last thing you do this semester, be a good sport and a patriot instead of a loafer on Memorial Day morning. The American Legion has asked the League and Union to represent Shaker High in the annual Peace Parade. We're all meeting in back of Moreland School at 9:30 next Thursday morning, and hope that you'll be there to march with us.

So there's my nickel's worth, and now my thanks—to the Shakerite people for allowing me this space and for their outstanding support of Shakerism throughout the year, my thanks especially to Sallie Baus and her All-Girls Loyalty League, to the A. B. L. Union members, to Wally Haas for photo-publicity, John Harrison for showcard-printing, Rev. Knight for noon-movie work, Helen Ayers for her editorials on school spirit, to fellow Cabinet members, to President Bobby Falls for his new program of Super-Shakerism, to Pat Quigley for setting the best example of moral support, to Mr. Patin, Mr. Thrailkill, and my teachers for their patience. And for putting over the Budget, the Miriam Stage Drive, and helping me so much with Shakerism, my thanks go most of all—to you!

So long now, sprinkle the old Shaker pepper with Super-Shakerism, and—Good Luck!

Shaker Pepper

BY BOB FALLS

This opportunity to express some of my post-election feelings is most welcome.

I am deeply grateful for the splendid co-operation of all those who served on my election committee. I also wish to sincerely thank every student who gave me his vote in the election.

Now that the excitement is all over, I am beginning to fully realize the serious responsibility of the office of president of Shaker High School. Every idea used in the campaign to promote Super-SHAKERISM will be carried out conscientiously. I know I can count on the co-operation of every student in school to accomplish these objectives which comprised the campaign platform.

It is none too early for us to start planning for next year. One of the campaign placards reads, "Your home-room is the Keystone of Super-SHAKERISM." The home-room representative who serves on the Shaker Pepper Committee should be chosen only after careful consideration of his qualifications. Every home-room should select a representative who is conscientious, hard-working, and commands the respect of every one in the home-room. Since part of our program involves competition between rooms, you can readily appreciate the importance of choosing a student who is best qualified.

We of the 1941 class wish to salute you of the present graduating class. We have been in a position to observe the sincere efforts of the present school officers, and I feel sure I'm expressing the thoughts of the entire school when I say that we are grateful for the splendid work done in promoting the best interests of Shaker High School.

And for portraying the Cobina of radio fame
We, in our annals, will record her name.

This year's editor of the Shakerite
Swings a golf club with all his might,
In Congressional club his voice rings out,
In hockey he stars, without a doubt.

She's very cute, has long dark hair,
When you hear her laugh you know she's there—
Her dancing is tricky and very swift;
She's around "Knight and Day"—get the drift?

His drums are worth your while to hear,
He's always grinning from ear to ear,
He plays a part in "First Lady" tonight,
His past is brilliant, his future bright!

In this, the last issue of the Shakerite, our bouquet of the month department dedicates itself to Shaker's Fencing Team for compiling an unbeaten record that stretches over the three years they have been organized. Next year, all the teams in Greater Cleveland will be organized in a league and have regular scheduled meets. With such an impressive record behind them the Raiders entry in this league should be a major contender for top honors. This year's team was composed of the following members: Bob Jaster, Hal Rosen, Ken Telford, Bill Smith, Jim Graham, Phil Smith, Ken Horth, Elizabeth Pond, Jimmy Savage, Ruth Joseph, and Margaret Warren.

The Senior Intramural home room baseball championship was won last Monday by the combined teams of 300 and 312. The runnerup in the Senior playoffs was 311, who captured the baseball crown last year and were football and basketball champs this year. By clinching first place, home rooms 300 and 312 earned the right to meet the other class victors to determine the school champs.

* * *

Sports Note!

Pat Troyan, wrestling coach and biology instructor, will take over the track duties next year. Also, Jack Rafeld, history teacher, will assume the duties of athletic director.

Another championship team came from the Junior Class on May 13. The girl's baseball crown was captured by Marguerite White's team in their annual spring ball tourney. The second place team was captained by Netta Siegel.

Raiders Keep Up Track Successes In Recent Meets

The Shaker track team has continued to show itself to best advantage since last publication. Ed Nyfenger and Ben Gast lead in points, but other boys have contributed to the team's success in the last few meets.

After losing its first dual meet in four years to Latin on April 19, the track squad surged back to beat Bedford, 62⅓ to 54⅔. In the Shaker, Rocky River, and John Hay triangular meet, a strong River team snared first place easily, amassing 76 points to Shaker's 42 and John Hay's 19. Ed Nyfenger did not run the mile, because the Mansfield Relays took place the next day.

The track squad made a good showing for itself in both the Mansfield and Salem Relays against stiff competition. At Mansfield, Ben Gast came in third in the shot put event, recording his best throw yet of fifty-one feet three inches. His throw, along with those of the first and second place winners, broke the existing record. Ed Nyfenger narrowly missed first place in the mile when he trailed Ray Jordan of Akron South in the grueling distance race.

At Salem, the track team duplicated last year's success in the medley relay when Ed Nyfenger, running the last leg of the relay, made up an eighty-yard handicap to come in first. The relay consisted of Tom Deuring, running the 220-yard dash; Marvin Schultz, in the quarter-mile; Neal Brunner, in the half-mile; and Nyfenger finishing up with the mile. The team next won an easy victory when it walloped Orange, 73 to 45, in a dual meet held at Orange. Shaker took eleven out of fourteen firsts, but Orange took first and second in both the hurdle events.

Picnic, Initiation Conclude Meetings of Leaders Club

It happened again! The annual Girls' Leaders Club picnic climaxed the club's meetings. May 22 was the date, 3:00 o'clock the time, and Alice Bacon's home at the Squire Valleevue Farm was the place.

First event of the day was an initiation of the new members for the next year's club. The newly elected officers also helped to take charge of this event. They are, Marjorie Wonderlich, president; Lore Ziechman, vice president; and Netta Siegel and Ruth Ammerman are the secretary and treasurer respectively.

Presentation of letters was next on the program. Lila Horn and Shirley Hardman were the two seniors to receive this award after winning the designated number of points which was 1000. Two seniors to win their letters at mid-year were Gwen Jones, and Ruth Mary Joseph.

Change Presents Revised Staff; New Mentor Was '36 All-America

Art Francis Resigns to Study at Columbia; New Track Coach and Athletic Director Also Named

In a decision that revised the present coaching staff of Shaker High and that will bring a new head mentor to the school, the Shaker Heights Board of Education recently named Willard M. Pederson, All-American football star at Western State College, Colorado in 1936, as successor to retiring head coach, Art Francis, who handed in his resignation last January. Francis will go to Columbia University for further education and has also been dickering with several offers.

Pederson, 28, who stands six feet five inches tall and weighs 200 pounds, will assist in track in addition to serving as head coach in football and basketball and will also teach sophomore English.

The versatile All-American at present is studying for his master's degree in English at Western State College where he coached basketball and assisted in track and football after his undergraduate days. Pederson was an All-Rocky Mountain Conference cager for three years and later played with the Oshkosh All-Stars, a team in the National Professional league. Last year Pederson coached National College's boxing team for the 1940 Olympics.

Golfers Finish 3rd; Haas Paces Team

Shaker golfers, 1939 champions of the Grantwood golf league, finished in third place, just one point behind the second place John Adams team.

The Scholastic league is sponsored by Grantwood Country Club, with all matches being played at the club. The principal victory was over Western Reserve Academy, 20-12.

Walter Haas has paced the team this year with 16 points, and Dan Friedman was a close second with 14 points.

A Lake Erie League tournament was played last Saturday, at Grantwood with Shaker placing fourth, amassing a total of 343 points, following Elyria, Heights, and Brush as named.

A fairly good team is in sight for next year as two veteran linksman, Chuck King and Dan Friedman will remain, enabling the coach to shape the team around experienced players.

Walter Haas, Larry Brennan, Chuck King, and Dan Friedman will be the lettermen this year.

Brenda and Cobina Invade Shaker P. A.

Two dark forms are silently stalking an unsuspecting man as he walks peacefully down the street. A sudden pounce and they are upon him! Is it a hold-up? A murder? No. Brenda (Doris Moore) and Cobina (Lillian Poulides) are only getting a date for the evening. Of course it is rather hard on the date, but it has to be done that way, because that's how Bob Winchell, their skit-writer, wrote it.

This pseudo man-hunt started when a P. A. announcement had to be written to interest the students in the senior play "Dulcy." Since then four other Brenda and Cobina skits have been written, three by Bob and one by Barbara Avery. . . . Hollywood could use these kids!

New Shaker Rendezvous Opens as Pupils Turn Proprietors

BY KAY MAYERS

Out of a clear sky and into the heads of three fellows, an idea came one day. Now Larry Brennan, Don Tritton, and Tex Patterson are co-owners and official proprietors of "The Shack," the four-week-old and now famous thirty-five by forty hide-out of high school sufferers at the corner of Warrensville Center and Fransleigh Roads.

With $400 and one month, "The Shack" came into existence. The fellows built it, painted it, and fixed it up in general, and from generous donations from dubious, but encouraging parents, "The Shack" was furnished.

In front of the corner where the nickelodeon stands, filled with the very latest in recordings, is just enough room for all you bugs to jitter. Or, if you want to eat instead of dance, pick out any one of the five tables, or maybe you'd prefer the soda fountain. On the menu you'll find sandwiches, ice cream, pop, burgers, in fact almost anything you'd like to fill you up. (The owners eat substantial amounts of the produce, but they still make a profit.)

"The Shack" opens at nine every morning and closes about 11:15 every night, except Friday and Saturday, when it holds its door open until the wee small hours. Katherine Brennan, a former Shaker graduate, is manager during the day, and at night the three owners carry on the enterprise.

Tex says he's the cook, but it's known that Mrs. Brennan shows up regularly.

Quoting each director, "Guaranteed—there are absolutely no brains behind the business."

Alumni Win Honors

Lawrence J. Sinnott, an alumnus of Shaker, has been elected into the Blue Key, honorary society, at Case School of Applied Science.

Another alumnus, Walter J. Boughton, at Brown University, helped with the original music and lyrics for the sixth annual production of the Brown-brokers.

Charles H. Smith, Shaker graduate of '38, was recently elected to Beaver Key, the Junior honorary society of M. I. T.

Griffith Jones Aids in Fete

Griffith Jones, supervisor of music in the Shaker Heights schools, is a member of the choral committee for the Plain Dealer Music Festival. His committee will conduct auditions for the festival in the stadium June 14.
